A marketing jack-of-all-trades, I take great joy in the variety that the Marketing industry offers. From graphic design, to copywriting, to social media management, I approach every project with energy and enthusiasm, with the mindset that each is an opportunity to grow, learn, and outdo myself. I flourish most when I am gathering new knowledge and improving my skills, to do what I do best, better, to gain a fresh perspective, and to share knowledge between peers and colleagues. I am seeking new opportunities to spread my wings! References available upon request.
